

IMPACT OF HUMAN RESOURCES ON THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE REGIONS

Nikola Tanakov, Assistant, Dr.¹
Maria Kazakova²

Abstract: This report is devoted to the importance of human resources for regional development. The report analyzes human resource issues, some of which can be tackled regionally through possible forms of creating competitive advantages for economically active people. A spatial feature of the peculiarities of the regions is presented. In conclusion, the respective positive aspects of the development of the regions in Bulgaria and their competitive advantages are presented.

Keywords: regional development, population, governance

¹ University of National and World Economy, Sofia, nikolatanakov@gmail.com;

² University of National and World Economy, Sofia, maria_kazakova@abv.bg;